

Water Insecurities Across Texas

Access to water among Texans varies significantly depending on various factors. In some counties, over 40% of the population lacks access to proper plumbing, while in counties like Orange, more than 60% of plumbing infrastructure has been lost in just a year.

